PQD Items	Description	CCPG Public Quantitative Disclosures Frequently Asked Questions
Format	Template of CCPG Public Quantitative Disclosure	Comments from the previous reviews are noted in black, with the latest changes highlighted in yellow. The agreed format for CCPG members is either CSV or XLSX format. Please DO NOT submit the Public Quantitative Disclosure in PDF format. A copy of the template can be extracted from:  https://ccp-global.org/wp-content/uploads/2024/02/CCPG_PQD_Template_20211028_v3.xlsx
Timing	Timing of publication of CCP Public Quantitative Disclosure on the respective CCP website	CCPs to report quarterly PQD figures following a 2-month lag after the quarter-end: CCPs will look to follow a 2-month lag distribution timeline.  Effective as of June 2022: CCPs began publishing the 2022 Q1 PQD data ending 2022-03-31 on 2022-05-31, and then the 2022 Q2 PQD data ending 2022-06-30 on 2022-08-31, and so forth.            CCP Global Press Release regarding the change can be found here. The data shall be published within a specific time horizon: At the latest, within the first 10 working days after the specified publication date of the PQD.            The data should be available on the respective CCP website.
PQD Retention Policy	Period of time PQDs should be kept on a CCPs website	CCPs should ensure that their publicly available PQDs are accessible on their websites for a minimum of 5-years, once published.  Internally, CCPs should retain PQDs in accordance with their applicable retention policy.
PQD Inquiry Policy	Market participants who request information on PQDs	CCPs should respond to questions concerning PQDs within a maximum of 3-years (12 quarters of PQDs) only. As practices and standards change and due to evolving CCP methodologies, CCPs would face significant efforts to provide coherent answers for dated PQDs. Furthermore, this could be misleading when compared to the latest PQDs.

The following guidance provides details of the six main data types within the CCPG Template				Details	CCPG Public Quantitative Disclosures Frequently Asked Questions
Data Type	Decimal Places (d.p.)	Format	Example
Date		YYYY-MM-DD	2020-09-30	All dates should be in the format: YYYY-MM-DD	If a variable is in date format, please use the date format YYYY-MM-DD format.
Duration		HH:MM:SS	01:38:00	1 hour and 38 minutes equivalent to: 01:38:00	All durations should be in the format: HH:MM:SS
Numeric	0 d.p.	#	1	If a variable is numeric, please do not insert text. Any additional information should be included within the Qualitative Notes sheet.	All numbers 0 d.p.(s) should be whole numbers in the format: #
Numeric	2 d.p.	###	2300.00	If a variable is numeric, please do not insert text. Any additional information should be included within the Qualitative Notes sheet. Decimal separator (Radix point) should be a small dot "." and not a comma ",".	All currency or numbers 2 d.p.(s) should be in the format: ###
Currency	2 d.p.	###	150000.00	If a variable is a currency, please ensure this is only a number without any currency symbols. Please do not insert text. Any additional information should be included within the Qualitative Notes sheet. Decimal separator (Radix point) should be a small dot "." and not a comma ",".	All currency or numbers 2 d.p.(s) should be in the format: ###
Percentage	2 d.p.	###%	99.50%	For CSV-based PQDs, it is advised to ensure that data is in the format "99.50%" rather than displaying any other format, for consistency. For XLSX based disclosures, since the underlying data is constantly stored as a decimal and displayed as a percentage, i.e., "0.9950" is displayed as "99.50%" in Excel, there should be no issues with format. Decimal separator (Radix point) should be a small dot "." and not a comma ",".	All percentages 2 d.p.(s) should be in a decimal format: ###%
Text		Text	Cover 2	All text should be limited to a maximum of 255 characters, where possible.	HTML links are classed as text. Please ensure the full HTML link is provided in the format "https://...", rather than text with embedded hyperlinks.
Fields that are not applicable to the CCP: For fields which are not applicable or data that is not available, please input "N/A" (without quotations), in the respective cell.

File naming convention CCPG Template		Details	CCPG Public Quantitative Disclosures Frequently Asked Questions
PQD Format Type	Example
XLSX	CCP_PQD_YYYYQ#.xlsx	For members who populate the XLSX CCPG Template and save as the same file type (XLSX), no additional actions are required, except to rename the file as described in the example column on the left. CCP Global recommends publishing PQDs via this method with a single XLSX file for easier file management and since each tab/sheet can be converted to CSV if desired. “CCP” should be replaced by the CCP mnemonic chosen by the CCP.
CSV	CCP_AggregateDataFile_YYYYQ#.csv            CCP_DataFile_4_3_YYYYQ#.csv            CCP_DataFile_4_4a_YYYYQ#.csv            CCP_DataFile_4_4b_YYYYQ#.csv             CCP_DataFile_23_3_YYYYQ#.csv (18 Separate CSV Data Files in total)            (3 separate files in either CSV or XLSX: “Qualitative Notes”, “Revisions”, “ConsolidatedDataFile”).	For members who populate the XLSX CCPG Template and then export to CSV: When exporting to CSV files, please ensure that “CSV (Comma Delimited)” is selected as the file type. There should be 18 data files in total. Additional CSVs would include the “Qualitative Notes”, “Revisions” and “ConsolidatedDataFile” files which can be provided in CSV or XLSX*. Ensure that all the individual CSV files are correctly named (please see the examples opposite) and place into a single downloadable ZIP file on the CCP’s website. The name of the ZIP file should reflect the PQD year and quarter. E.g., “CCP_PQD_YYYYQ#.zip” → “CCP_PQD_2020Q2.zip” “CCP” should be replaced by the CCP mnemonic chosen by the CCP.

Quarter end	The minimum coverage standard for the default fund resources – e.g., Cover 1 or Cover 2.  CCPs are expected to maintain pre-funded resources sufficient to cover a wide range of potential stress scenarios that should include, but not limited to, the default of the one or two participant(s) and their affiliates that would potentially cause the largest aggregate credit exposure to the CCP in extreme but plausible market conditions. Peak and average amount over the previous 12 months.  Initial Margin is defined as Total Initial Margin Required (excluding excess, but including add-ons). CCPs are encouraged to provide explanatory notes, especially if their processes deviate.  A CCP may elect to disclose the peak number within the 3-month look-back, e.g., in the Qualitative Notes section of the PQDs.
